The 2012 Little Miss and Little Master of Scott County contest and the Miss Scott County Fair Queen Pageant will be taking place on the first night of the Fair, as is the custom, but the audience will enjoy both of these events on Sunday, July 15, in air-conditioned comfort at McClain Hall behind Scottsburg High School. At the fairgrounds, another type of crowd, the stock car racing fans, will gather that evening at the grandstand to watch as their favorites compete in one of the wildest events. Races begin at 7:30 p.m. Admission is $8 for adults and $5 for children age 12 and under. On Monday, July 16, the second annual Charity Challenge will take place. This event pits teams of local people against each other, all to win money for charity. The event will begin at 7:30 p.m. and admission for this evening of entertainment will be a reduced price. Tuesday, July 17, will feature the popular Mini-Enduro Race, where racers leave the event only if their vehicles no longer work. Again, start time is 7:30 p.m. and admission is $8 for adults and $5 for children 12 and under.

There'll be a couple of interesting events scheduled for Wednesday, July 18, which is also Kiddie Day from 1 to 4 p.m. At 7 p.m. at the Scott County Saddle Club arena, spectators can see a horse drill team. On the other side of the fairgrounds at the grandstand, folks will enjoy a tractor pull. It too will begin to spin at 7 p.m. Admission is the $8-$5 prices.

Open drag races are set for Thursday, July 19, at the grandstand. Competition begins at 7:30 p.m., and admission is $8-$5.

On Friday, July 20, the grandstand will host not only the ever-popular car demolition derby but also a garden tractor demo. Action will start at 7:30 p.m. Admission is $8-$5. Grandstand events end on Saturday night, July 21, with truck pulls at 7:30 p.m. Admission is $8-$5. It's going to be a fun week, folks, whether in the grandstand or the midway. Be there!
