

High speed chase leads to arrest

Written by Administrator

Wednesday, 10 February 2010 00:00 - Last Updated Wednesday, 10 February 2010 10:25

A 19-year-old Laconia man, Austin Ryan George, was arrested and charged with resisting law enforcement following a high-speed chase Feb. 2.

George was initially clocked at more than 120 mph on SR 135 in Harrison County and at Indiana State Trooper Mark Strange's attempt to stop him for that violation he attempted to flee.

George lost control of his vehicle and went off of the road when trying to take a side road to get away.

In addition to being charged with resisting Law enforcement with a vehicle, George also faces charges of criminal recklessness, reckless driving and minor in possession of alcohol.

George was incarcerated in the Harrison County Jail.