

Grammy nominated band to perform Friday in Lanesville

Written by George Browning

Thursday, 17 June 2010 00:00 - Last Updated Thursday, 17 June 2010 13:35

New Life Christian Church of Lanesville will host "An Evening of Bluegrass" on June 18. The evening will feature "Cherryhomes" with special guest Relic. "Cherryholmes" is the 2005 IBMA Entertainer of the year and the group has also been nominated for four grammys.

Seating is limited to 450 and the event is expected to sell out.

There are also sponsorship opportunities available in three pricing tiers.

The $100 tier includes a quarter page advertisement in the concert program that will be given to all ticket holders. The business name will also be listed on the state sign.

Tier two is $500. Tier two gets all the items from tier one with a half page advertisement. Tier two sponsors also get a table at the concert event and rights to product promotion with displays or give-a-ways with registration to expand your customer data base; Business name recognition, logo or sponsor supplied promotional ad on power point presentations during intermission and non-performance times. The tier two sponsors will also receive 10 concert tickets.

Tier three sponsorship is $1,000. Those sponsors will receive all the benefits of the tier two package, plus a full page advertisement in the program. Tier three sponsors will also receive a stage banner, sponsorship acknowledgement on radio advertisements and all concert event notices and calenders that New Life controls and 10 concert tickets.

For more information on ordering tickets or for those wishing to become sponsors are encouraged to call Rob Fitzgerald at 502-649-8687 or by visiting www.newlifechristian.info. Tickets will also be available at the door.