

The Little Clinic was founded in 2003 in Louisville with a mission to provide convenient, affordable, high quality healthcare services in a retail setting. Today the company operates in seven states, including its first location inside the Floyds Knobs JayC. The Little Clinic, which is open seven days a week including week nights, is staffed with board certified nurse practitioners and physician assistants, specialists in family practice.

Clinics are open seven days a week, including evenings, and appointments are not necessary. The clinics provide care for the entire family ages 24 months and up, including treatment of common family illnesses like sore throats, bronchitis, ear and sinus infections, physicals, vaccinations, health screenings and much more.
