

A winter filled with snow days and extreme cold prolonged the school year from local students. But members of Floyd Central's Class of 2014 got to don the hats and gowns and walked the aisle for their diploma at the school's recent graduation celebration. More photos and a story from FC's graduation will be printed in next week's issue (June 18) of The Banner.

Photo by Patti Hartog At right are students waiting for the graduation ceremony to begin. The Class of 2014, have a long list of accomplishments that made their mark on the history of the school.