

Washington County man arrested for neglect of a dependant

Written by Administrator

Wednesday, 18 June 2014 13:43 -

On March 18th of this year, a detective from the Indiana State Police Post at Sellersburg was contacted by the Washington County Department of Child Services in reference to Paul Amburgey, 37, from Washington County allegedly providing controlled substances to his juvenile child. The report also stated Paul Amburgey was allegedly using the controlled substance with the same juvenile child.

After an investigation was completed by the detective an arrest warrant was issued out of a Washington County Court for the arrest of Paul Amburgey.

He was arrested without incident for Neglect of a Dependant, D Felony and incarcerated at the Washington County Jail.