

?Georgetown Elementary School announces date of Third Annual Santa's Workshop

Written by Administrator

Wednesday, 10 December 2008 00:00 - Last Updated Wednesday, 10 December 2008 10:46

? Find your inner elf at Georgetown Elementary School's Third Annual Santa's Workshop on Saturday, December 13 from 9 a.m. until Noon. Dash on down to Georgetown Elementary School for a day of yummy treats, festive craft making and a special visit from the most well-known inhabitant of the North Pole! Start the fun by grabbing a donut breakfast with Santa. Prices for the breakfast are $2 for a Santa size portion (two donuts and a drink) and only $1 for the elf size (one donut and a drink). To remember the 2008 holiday season, photos with Santa are available for just $5.

After breakfast, children may participate in a variety of kid-friendly activities including: Prancer's Promenade Cake Walk, Creating Winter Ornaments, Decorating Holiday Cards, Coloring clothes at the Tie-Dye Studio (please bring your own clothing items to be dyed), Folding Festive Origami, and much, much more!

Whether you've been naughty or nice, make sure to include this special event in your holiday celebrations. Georgetown Elementary is located at 8800 High street in downtown Georgetown. Proceeds benefit Georgetown Elementary Parent Teacher Association.