JERRY E. MARKOVICH, 61, Charlestown, died Monday, July 6 at Floyd Memorial Hospital.

He graduated from Bishop Noll High School in 1966 and served in the U.S. Army until 1968. While in high school he worked at Calumet Cycle Sales and began racing motorcycles as a hobby. After his Army service, he worked as a mechanic and extended his racing career into owning and driving AA Fuel Dragsters. He successfully competed in a five-state racing circuit, where he often exceeded 225 mph. In 1969, he joined the East Chicago Fire Department and it became necessary to leave drag racing in 1971. During his years on the fire department, he worked part time making magnetic signs and vacuum-formed signs. In 1979, he took a pension buy-out from the fire department and expanded his successful sign business. Today, he owned a sign business in Carroll County and his 40 years of experience have proven beneficial to the continued success of the business. He was raised a Master Mason in 1989 at Battle Ground Lodge #313. That same year, he joined the Indianapolis Valley of Scottish Rite, Murat Temple and Tippecanoe Shrine Club. He became Worshipful Master of his lodge in 1992 and served as president of Tippecanoe Shrine Club in 1994 while participating in the Tippecanoe Motor Patrol Unit. Three years later, he was president of Murat Motor Corps and later served four years as the Motor Corps Secretary. He was also commander of the Police Club Motorcycle Drill Team from 1998 through 2000. He traveled the United States, participating in 67 parades and eight competitions. He was a Potentate's Aide to Illustrious Sir Michael St. Pierre in 1999. He was executive aide of the Great Lakes Association of Shrine Motor Corps, and in 2003, he had advanced to President of the organization. His civic memberships include American Legion Post 60 of Logansport and a life membership in AMVETS and special deputy for the Marion County Sheriff's Department.
