Scott County basketball fans can indulge their love for the game by attending the Indiana/Kentucky All-Star Games slated Friday, June 11, and Saturday, June 12.

Austin High School's Katy McIntosh is on the girls' roster. McIntosh will be playing for the University of Indianapolis this fall.

Exhibition games are scheduled against the Indiana Junior All-Stars for Monday, June 7, at Fort Wayne Bishop Luers, ironically the home of the Class AA team that the AHS Lady Eagles beat to take this year's State Championship. Games are also set at Rushville High School on Wednesday, June 9. Both evenings will begin with the girls' game at 6 p.m.

The Kentucky All-Star doubleheader is on Friday, June 11, at Bellarmine University in Louisville. Girls will tip off at 5:30 p.m. with the boys' game to immediately follow.

The Indianapolis Star Indiana All-Star Games presented by Marsh Supermarkets will be held on Saturday, June 12, at Conseco Fieldhouse in downtown Indianapolis. Girls will tip off at 5 p.m. with the boys' game to again follow.

This is the 60th year that the Indianapolis Star will produce the Indiana High School All-Star Basketball Games. The 28 Indiana players involved report to camp on June 5 for a busy week of practice and games.
