

Youth Tent Revival with Defining Ezra, bonfire, guest ministers and The Believers at New Frankfort Youth

Written by Administrator

Tuesday, 03 August 2010 00:00 - Last Updated Tuesday, 03 August 2010 14:06

The New Frankfort Pentecostal Church will be holding a youth tent revival Monday through Friday, August 9-13, starting at 7 p.m.

The guest evangelist will be Lou Baker of Willisburg, Ky., on Monday, August 9; Coty Chesser of Willisburg, Ky., on Tuesday, August 10; Pastor Marvin McIntosh on Wednesday, August 11; Jeff Black of Shelby Street Lighthouse Pentecostal Church of Indianapolis on Thursday, August 12; and Jason Sparks and Defining Ezra will be there on Friday, August 13.

Defining Ezra will be hosting a Christian Concert on Friday, August 13, at 7 p.m., followed by a bonfire and weiner roast that night.

Also featured will be The Believers Dance, Drama and Choir Team from New Frankfort Church, who will be worshipping through the week as well. This group is made of several young ladies pouring their hearts out to the Lord in song and worship and dance. They are under the direction of Mark and Tonya Robbins and Marcus Amos.

This event is for all youth in the community to come and take part in, however the adults are also encouraged to come out and attend as well.

The tent revival will be held ¼ mile north of the caution light of State Road 203 and 256, five miles west of Austin, and turn north on State Road 203, and look for the tent revival signs. The driveway will be on the west side of State Road 203.