

Free Lunch for Scott County Youth This Summer Up to Age 18

Written by George Browning

Wednesday, 05 June 2013 00:00 -

Child Hunger Corps of Gleaners, Indianapolis will be providing lunch for children and youth up to age 18 for all of Scott County. This free lunch will be provided Monday-Friday from 12-1pm, now through August 2 (except July 4).

The need is for volunteers who will serve for a week, daily, or several days for the food service and supervision of the youth. The time of service would be from 11:30am-1:30pm. The host site is the Cherry Street Community Center in Austin, located behind Grace Covenant Family Life Center (across the street from City Hall). If anyone or any church, business, civic group, or other type group could sponsor a week, several days, or certain days by volunteering, please contact us at 812-794-3182, 812-820-1792, or email pamog@aol.com.

Volunteers are needed for just 2 hours a day throughout the summer! Get your church or your civic group together and pledge one week, or two weeks through the summer! This can only happen through a volunteer response from the people of Scott County. There will be a training meeting for all volunteers Tuesday, May 14th at 6:30pm at the Cherry St. Community Center.