? The Austin High School Eagles will host the CAI North Invitational on Saturday and Monday, December 27 and 29, at Rigel Gym.

On December 27, New Washington will play Columbus Christian at 4 p.m. The 6 p.m. game will feature host Austin versus U.S. 31 rival Crothersville.

Action resumes at 10 a.m. on Monday, December 29. Austin will play Columbus Christian. At 12 noon, New Washington's Mustangs will be pitted against Crothersville's Tigers.

At 5 p.m., Columbus Christian will face the Tigers.

Austin and New Washington will play the 7 p.m. game that night.

Admission is now being sold at the high school athletic office. Cost is $5 per session or $10 for a three-session pass. No athletic passes or season tickets can be used to gain admission to this series of games.

Students with sports passes can buy the three-session pass for $5 if they buy them in advance in the athletic office.

Anyone who enjoys boys' basketball will like this series of games, noted Athletic Director Mike Deaton.
