

?NW Cheerleaders to host annual cheer clinic January 23

Written by Administrator

Wednesday, 14 January 2009 00:00 - Last Updated Wednesday, 14 January 2009 10:40

? The New Washington High School cheerleaders will be hosting their annual cheer clinic on Friday, January 23.

The clinic will begin at 3 p.m. and end with a performance at the boys junior varsity/varsity basketball game that evening against Charlestown.

The clinic will be held in the New Washington High School gymnasium and is open to all students grades kindergarten through eighth.

The camp will feature individual instruction by the head New Washington High School cheerleading coach, coaching by New Washington State Champ cheerleaders, clinic cheer shirt, dinner and clinic participant free admission to the January 23 ball game.

All participants will learn a group dance, floor cheer, sideline chants, jumps, stunts and tumbling.

The fee for the clinic is $25 per student. Please make checks payable to NWHS Cheerleaders.

Fees will be due on or before Thursday, January 15 to the elementary or middle-high school office.

Application forms have been sent home with all New Washington students however all students are welcome.

For an application, further information, or questions please contact NW Head Cheerleading Coach Emily Oliver-Jones at 812-293-3368, ext. 7 or e-mail address eoliver@gcs.k12.in.us.