

Photos lead to arrest of Salem man

Written by George Browning

Tuesday, 12 October 2010 00:00 - Last Updated Tuesday, 12 October 2010 11:49

Marc Cook, 33, of Salem was arrested over the weekend and charged with a Class D Felony of dissemination of matter harmful to a minor.

According to the probable cause affidavit obtained from the Washington County prosecutor's office, Cook sent inappropriate pictures to a minor.

The minor's parents informed the Washington County Sheriff's Department of the pictures and Cook was arrested.

Cook was later released from the Washington County Detention Center after posting a $1,500 full-cash bond.

Washington County Deputy Prosecutor Blaine Goode said a motion will be filed in Circuit Court to revoke the bond because Cook still has charges pending from an incident that happened in October of 2009.

Continued on page 3

Photos...

Continued from page 1

In that case, Cook was charged with Child Molesting, a Class C Felony. He posted a $5,000 full cash bond on that charge.

The Class C felony from 2009 carries a possible 2-8 year sentence and the most recent Class D felony charge carries a possible sentence of six months to three years.

"If convicted of both charges, the sentences could run concurrent," Goode said.