

The 2012 Washington County fair came to an end in smashing fashion Saturday at the annual Demolition Derby.

Jeremy VanCleave and his good friend Isaiah McVey took the top two prizes.

Darrell Troncin was third and Tyler Walton was the crowd favorite.

“It was a lot of fun, especially coming down to the last two with me Isaiah,” VanCleave said.

VanCleave said he and McVey having been pairing up in demo derbies for the past eight years.

For winning the 2012 edition of the demo derby, VanCleave received $1,500.
