The Summer Reading Program at the Salem Public Library has come to an end and the library is pleased by the great response.

There were 519 children and young adults who signed up to take part and 338 of those completed it by reading their required amount of books or minutes.

Those completing the reading program received a free book, lots of coupons and free passes from area sponsors, as well as a prize.

The library hopes everyone will take part again in the summer of 2015 when the theme will be "Every Hero Has a Story!" So children should be getting their masks and capes ready to be a Super Reader!

This year's sponsors for the summer reading program follow:

Deer Country, Jean's Extrusions, Friends of the Salem Public Library, Mid-Southern Savings Bank, Mead, Mead & Clark P.C., Regions Bank, Salem Ace Hardware, Old National Bank, PNC Bank, Domino's, H & R Bakery, Walmart, Elitejorg Museum, Indianapolis Children's Museum, Subway, Wonderlab Museum, Louisville Zoo, Squire Boon Caverns, Salem Parks and Recreation, Arby's Restaurant, Salem Apothecary, McDonald's DanMar Pharmacy, Sav-A-Lot, First Savings Bank, Salem Leader Publishing Company, Kentucky Derby Museum, WSLM Radio, Dr. John Tackett D.M.D., Goodwill of Salem, NCAA Hall of Fame, Dairy Queen, The Frazier History Museum and the Abdul Aziz Orthopedic Ed. Foundation.

Without these outstanding sponsors the Salem Public Library would be unable to bring the youth of Washington County the summer reading program.

The following adults and children were the winners in the Summer Reading program Prize Drawing:
